The Shogun Screening and Panel Discussion event is set to take you on an insightful journey into the world of samurais and the historical narratives of Japan. This event will feature the screening of "Shogun," an Emmy-winning TV series from 2024 (<https://www.imdb.com/title/tt2788316/>), which captures the imagination with its portrayal of feudal Japan and samurai culture. Following the screening, there will be a panel discussion featuring experts and enthusiasts who will explore the themes and historical accuracy depicted in the film. The panel will also discuss James Clavell's original 1975 novel and the historical accuracy of the show (such as John Blackthorne modeled after William Adams, an English navigator who served Tokugawa Ieyasu in the early 17th century under his Japanese name, Miura Anjin).
