

Benjamin A. Gilman
International Scholarship

From LaGuardia to Japan Transfer, Study Abroad, and the Gilman Scholarship

Adriana Allen, LaGuardia alum & Hunter College student

Adriana will share her studying abroad experience at 明治学院大学 (Meijigakuin University) in Japan in early this year and how the Gilman Scholarship helped fund her trip. Adriana will talk about her academic and cultural experience, highlighting the opportunity to live and experience what she had studied in classrooms. The Gilman scholarship, which funds up to $5,000 for the Pell recipient's study abroad trip, was a key step for making her study abroad possible. Before the talk, we will make kakigori (Japanese shaved ice) with strawberry, melon, and lemon syrups. We will also have Japanese-style toppings such as rennyu (condensed milk), anko (sweet red bean), and kinako (soybean powder).
